LOST PROPERTY

Just a reminder to parents that our teaching staff are not personally responsible for your child's/rens coats and PE kits. We can assist you ensuring that these items do not go astray if you clearly mark your child's/rens clothing with their full name and class number. If we find any named lost property around school, it is passed directly back to the teacher. It is your responsibility to ensure that your child/ren looks after their property. This is a life skill that if it is established early enough will reduce problems for you at a later date. We would advise you to purchase iron-on name labels which can be ironed onto the rib or collar or use a permanent pen to write onto the label. We do not have a designated lost property area in school. Each class now has it's own lost property basket.

No Spitting

SPITTING IN THE PLAYGROUND

It is with regret that I have to make this request, but it has been brought to my attention that a number of parents/visitors/children are spitting on the playground. Firstly, could I point out that this is not the sort of example we should be setting for our children, but more importantly, this is the area where our children play and do PE. If our children were to fall or slip on this mucus, it would be very unpleasant indeed! Please show more respect for our children and our school by setting the right example.

SPITTING IN SCHOOL IS NOT ALLOWED!
